Axway platform deployed by Thailand's National Interbank Transaction Management Exchange

Looking to facilitate payments related to customs, trade and logistics to meet Thailand's National Logistics Development objectives, National Interbank Transaction Management Exchange (NITMX) turned to Axway (NYSE Euronext: AXW.PA), a market leader in governing the flow of data, based on its expertise in integration and ability to govern critical business interactions.

NITMX was established in late 2005 to provide businesses, individuals and banks with access to electronic payment services, acting as a switching center for interbank, business-to-business, business-to-consumer and consumer-to-business payment transactions.

You can read the full article on the website of Finextra: